MR. FLY GETS "LEFT"

Knocked out in the first round, by the new champion Home Defender Screens—the Wheeler. Great joy in the family—dismay and alarm among the pests and vermin on the "Bleachers." The fallen terror, victor in all previous contests, could not reach his antagonist once, but was out-boxed from the start by the New Wheeler. Her able smile, while Mr. Fly was being stimulated in vain with typhoid tea.

MERCHANTS WILL BE HERE.

Why not Give them a Cordial Welcome.

On Wednesday, June 15th the Merchants and Manufacturers of Milwaukee will be in this city, arriving here at 7:25 and remaining over night will leave for Wausau next morning. It seems more or less of a pity that the merchants and manufacturers in their tour do not make us more of a visit, but it may be that we are getting as much of their society as the remainder of the town along the line, as the greater number of them seem to be favored with only about an hour of the time of the excursionists.

Inasmuch as the excursionists are going to be here over night it would seem as if our citizens might get up some sort of a welcome for the visitors, even if it were not a very elaborate one, with a committee to show them about town a bit, if they seemed to care to look over the place.

It is hardly possible that the Merchants and Manufacturers' excursion have as few merchants and manufacturers in the crowd as there are generally editors on an editorial excursion, but it is necessary to accept them as they come and give them the best we have.

Now that we have a few improvements to show the visitor, improvements that should impress a manufacturer very favorably, it would be just as well to display them and thus impress on their mind the superiority of the city as a manufacturing and shipping center.

Postoffices Consolidated.

Tuesday, May 31st, saw the last of the Centralia postoffice and today the new order of things commenced, and all of the mail of the city is being delivered from the east side office. The case from the west side office has been taken to the east side, and will be used there to hold the mail that has heretofore been sent across the river.

When word was received that the west side office was to be discontinued, there were at once applications at the east side office for boxes, but as the case on that side was fully taken up, without an empty box, nothing could be done to accommodate the new comers. Had it not been for the ability to secure the case from the west side, things would probably have been in rather a bad mixup.

When the department makes a move of this kind there seems to be no figuring done as to how the change will be accomplished. The respective postmasters are informed that the change will be made at such a time, and the local employees are compelled to figure things out as best they can. The transfer of the case and a portion of the help from the west side in this instance gave them a chance to handle the increased business with out so much inconvenience as would have been occasioned by the change otherwise.

Dislocated Her Elbow.

Miss Caroline Garrison received a painful injury on Saturday while out driving. She, in company with her sister, Miss Viola, and three children were driving up from the Garrison home, when the horse stumbled and broke one of the thills. The horse was stopped, but in jumping from the buggy Miss Caroline tripped and fell forward, resulting in the dislocation of her right elbow. The hurt was necessarily a painful one and it will take some time before she will be able to use the arm again.

BUSINESS MEN IN SESSION.

Their Meeting Results in Forming an Organization.

The business men's meeting held in the city hall last Thursday evening resulted in a large crowd being out, and a very successful session was held. An organization was perfected and a set of officers were elected who are apparently anxious to see something done to advance the interests of the city. The following are the officers:

President—E. Oberbeck.
Secretary—E. A. Upham.
Treasurer—Geo. M. Hill.

It was decided to call the new organization the Grand Rapids Advancement Association and make the admission fee one dollar. This proposition of making the admission so low called forth some discussion, as it was contended by some that such a small admission fee would put very little money in the treasury, which was one of the things desired in a concern of this sort. This theory was combated by the announcement that nothing much could be accomplished by what could be taken in on memberships, anyway, and it was more desirable to have a large membership, which it was thought could be obtained with the membership fee low.

T. A. Taylor addressed those present and outlined a plan for securing sites for manufacturing plants at a nominal cost provided any institution of this sort tried to locate here in the future. He cited the instance where one man tried to locate here last fall, and the party in question did not ask for any bonus or any gift whatever from the people. All he wanted was a site on which to locate his place of business, and for this he was willing to pay a fair price. This was unable to secure, however, as those persons who owned eligible sites held them at such an exorbitant figure that he left the city in disgust. It was to guard a repetition of these conditions that his plan was discussed and it was received with favor by those present.

Judge Gaynor addressed the meeting at some length. It was his opinion that it should be the effort of the association to secure several small manufacturing plants rather than one large one. While this is sensible by all, it is entirely probable that it would be poor policy to turn down any kind of a plant that wanted to locate here simply because it was a large one. In the making of a city, there are many things to be considered and it is not always possible to pre-empt to attempt to dictate just what kind of a factory shall locate in the city.

A. M. Muir, E. A. Upham and F. J. Wood also addressed the meeting and expressed themselves as being ready and willing to do all in their power to advance the interests of the city and make a success of the new association.

A large number of those present signed the roll and paid in their dollar initiation fee, and at the next meeting, which will be held a week from next Thursday evening, it is expected that there will be a good attendance and a number of others who will wish to become members.

Body Found Near Byron.

On Saturday afternoon about 3:30 o'clock the body of a man was found in the river about a mile north of Byron. It was supposed at once that it was the body of Joseph Brandtster who was drowned at Plover four weeks ago Monday, and subsequent developments proved this to be a fact.

The body was found by Frank Sickinger, who resides on the west side of the river, and as soon as he discovered what he had found he hurried to Byron and the authorities in this city were notified. Justice Cooper went to the scene of the finding and impounded a coroner's jury and they viewed the body.

There was nothing on the body by which it could be identified, there being four nickels in one pants pocket and a glass cutter in the coat pocket. Justice Cooper telephoned to Stevens Point and gave a description of the clothing on the corpse and the description tallied with what Brandtster was known to have on when he was drowned. Parties came from Stevens Point the same evening and took the body there for burial.

There was a reward of $25 offered for the finding of the body, which young Sickinger is entitled to. The drowned man was a member of the Catholic Knights, in which he carried an insurance of $1,000.

Sued by His Doctor.

"A doctor here has sued me for $12.50 which I claimed was excessive, for a case of cholera morbus," says R. White, of Coahuila, Cal. "At the trial he praised his medical skill and medicine. I asked him if it was not cholera morbus. He said it was. I said I had good reason to believe it was, and he would not say under oath that it was not. No doctor could use a better remedy than this in a case of cholera morbus, it never fails. Otto's Pharmacy."

EXHIBIT OF ART.

School Children Display Their Skill in This Line.

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week the children of the public schools in this city were given a chance to display their talents in art work, and also the books in the manual training department. The only way that the work the children are doing can be appreciated is to go and see it, and it seems as the boys were making remarkably progress along this line.

The exhibition was held in the old high school building, and the place was well filled with the samples of the work of the youngsters. While the samples of work exhibited were not what could be expected of an artist, and there is no claim made that any of the scholars are artists, still they served to show how much could be accomplished with children with a very little instruction, and inasmuch as the samples were, it would be a large percentage of the older people of the city to do as well.

There were also some very nice samples of work from the manual training school, comprising the small number of items that the boys have received instruction along this line. Many of the pieces of work are fully as good as the average farmer turns out, and would indicate that the boys are becoming quite deft with their hands and showing that the interest they appear to have taken in their work has not been inactive. This is one branch where the churchward cannot say what his most energetic neighbor has done and let it go at that. Each one's work shows for itself.

There were also some very pretty baskets displayed that had been woven by the children, also some samples of needlework that were very neat. Taken altogether the exhibition was a very interesting one and would indicate that the children are making good progress along the branches in question.
